

Colorado School of Mines
Outdoor Recreation Center
Wilderness Orientation

Option #1 July 27-31, 2015

Option #2 August 3-7, 2015

Join the Colorado School of Mines Outdoor Recreation Center for a Wilderness Orientation adventure before school starts. We will spend four days backpacking through a beautiful section of Rocky Mountain National Park or the Collegiate Peaks. The goal of this program is to help students meet other great people, learn about Mines community, and have a great Colorado outdoor experience.

This 4 day backpacking trip will be a great time to see some open country, rivers, and mountains of Colorado. We'll talk about the joys of challenges of transitioning to college, while you make friends that will last your entire time at Mines.

Wilderness Orientation registrations begin Tuesday, June 9th, at 9 am. Spaces in the two trip options are and will be on a first come first serve basis. The cost of the experience is $275 and full payment is due at the time of registration.

Cost: $275 - all group gear, equipment, food, transportation, permits and qualified trip leaders.
